

Hans Sigrist Symposium

Data Science: The Power of the Human Mind for the Sake of Humankind

- 13:15 Norbert Trautmann
University of Bern
Opening Remarks on behalf of the Hans Sigrist Foundation
- Christiane Tretter
University of Bern
Opening Remarks on behalf of the Faculty of Science
- 13:30 Aaron Roth
University of Pennsylvania
What should we want from predictions
- 14:15 Moritz Hardt
Max-Planck-Institute for Intelligent Systems, Tübingen
The power of prediction
- 15:00 Short Break
- 15:15 Malte Elson
University of Bern
On the Hacking of Private Data, and the p-Hacking of Research Data
- 16:00 Coffee Break
- 16:30 Carmela Troncoso
EPF Lausanne
Privacy was never a goal, it was always a means
- 17:15 Thomas Grote
University of Tübingen
Machine Learning in Healthcare and the Quest for Reliability
- 18:00 Christiane Tretter
University of Bern
Concluding Remarks
- Closing Apéro

Friday, December 1, 2023
13:15 – 18:00

UniS Building, Room S-003, Schanzeneckstrasse 1, 3012 Bern

Sponsored by the Hans Sigrist Foundation

Organized by Prof. Dr. Christiane Tretter, Mathematical Institute, Faculty of Science, University of Bern

www.sigrist.unibe.ch/symposium, Free Admission

u^b

b
UNIVERSITÄT
BERN